

COOKIE POLICY

Cookies are small data files placed on your device when you visit our website. Cookies may serve various purposes, such as ensuring the basic functionality of the website, enabling the retention of user preferences, contributing to the analysis of website traffic, and delivering targeted marketing communications.

When first visiting our website, a consent banner appears at the bottom of the page, informing the data subject about the use of cookies. The banner displays the available cookie categories with toggle switches allowing the data subject to enable or disable each category individually (except for necessary cookies, which are always active and cannot be disabled). By clicking "Allow all", the data subject consents to the use of all cookies. By clicking "Allow selection", only the cookies in the categories selected by the data subject via the toggle switches will be activated. By clicking "Deny", all non-essential cookies are rejected. Up-to-date and detailed information on the cookie categories used on our website, the specific cookies within each category, their purpose, function, and storage duration is available through the "Show details" section of the consent banner.

After the data subject has made a selection during the first visit, a small icon appears in the bottom-left corner of the website. Clicking this icon opens a "Cookie settings" panel, which displays the current consent state (showing which cookie categories have been accepted or rejected), the date and time of the consent, and the unique consent ID assigned to the data subject. From this panel, the data subject may click "Withdraw your consent" to revoke all previously given consents, or click "Change your consent" to return to the consent banner and modify the cookie settings at any time.

The legal basis for processing through necessary cookies is the legitimate interest of our Company pursuant to Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR (ensuring the proper functioning of the website), while for all other cookies the legal basis is the data subject's consent pursuant to Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR.
